

How to get there

From the railway station

Cà San Giorgio is accessible by foot from the railway station in just five minutes. Exit from the station and cross the Scalzi Bridge (Station bridge), continue straight for 50 metres until the first left turn. From here there are yellow signs pointing you in the direction of the Museo Civico di Storia Naturale at Fontego dei Turchi. Cà San Giorgio is situated in front of the museum.

From Piazzale Roma (car terminal)

Take the vaporetto (water bus) n° 1 (towards Rialto), alighting at Riva de Biasio (second stop). From here the hotel is just 3 minutes by foot. Exit the vaporetto, immediately turning left. Continue straight, following the Grand Canal until the end of the street. Here, turn right and continue for 20 metres.

From Marco Polo Airport

- With a private water taxi from the airport you can arrive directly at Cà San Giorgio in 25 minutes.
- It is also possible to take the bus (either ACTV or ATVO) from the airport to Piazzale Roma from where you can catch the vaporetto n° 1 to Riva de Biasio and continue by foot as indicated above.
